We're proud to present the Colossal Colon,® an incredibly lifelike replica of the human colon —just a whole lot bigger. In fact, it's big enough to crawl through, so you can tour examples of healthy colon tissue, colon disease, polyps and cancer.

And if a 40-foot long, 4-foot high colon isn't enough to get your attention, there's more.

We'll have:

- Educational activities for kids.
- Health professionals to answer all of your questions about colon cancer.

And getting that information is important: Colon cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death in the U.S., and it's 95% curable if detected early.
