WHAT IS ABA THERAPY?

ABA Therapy is a mixture of psychological and educational techniques that are utilized based upon the needs of each individual. ABA Therapy is the use of behavioral methods to measure behavior, teach functional skills, and evaluate progress.

ABA methods are used in at least six ways:

1. To increase behaviors (eg reinforcement procedures increase on-task behavior, or social interactions).
2. To teach new skills (eg, systematic instruction and reinforcement procedures teach functional life skills, communication skills, or social skills)
3. To maintain behaviors (eg, teaching self control and self-monitoring procedures to maintain and generalize job-related social skills).
4. To generalize or to transfer behavior from one situation or response to another (eg, from completing assignments in the resource room to performing as well in the mainstream classroom).
5. To restrict or narrow conditions under which interfering behaviors occur (eg, modifying the learning environment).
6. To reduce interfering behaviors (eg, self injury).
