

How well do you know yourself?

Why are you the way you are?

How can you deal effectively with others who are different than you?

The Color Code™ will, quite simply, change your life. It will make a difference in every relationship you have, starting with the relationship you have with yourself. Identify the driving core motive behind your personality and other personalities. Understanding the strengths and limitations of each personality opens the door for improved relationships. Learn specific techniques for effectively communicating and interacting with others.

The Hartman Personality Series

Friday, March 16th 9-12

Department of Human Services
120 N. 200 W , Rm 129

*You must pre-register for this class. Please log on to www.utcweb.org/2007/2007.htm.

There is no cost to state employees.