

Life expectancy at birth can be thought of as the average number of years a person would be expected to live based on current death rates. Utahns have longer life expectancy than the United States overall. However, life expectancy is nearly 5 years less for Black Utahns and 3.5 years less for American Indian Utahns than for the state overall.

U.S. 1995
American Indian	Asian/Pacific Islander	Black	Hispanic	White	Total
		69.6		76.5	75.8

