

Greg Matis, Senior Counsel SelectHealth and Intermountain Healthcare

Mr. Matis serves as Senior Counsel for both SelectHealth and Intermountain Healthcare. He has represented a variety of employers, insurers, and third party administrators with respect to ERISA compliance and their employee benefit plans. He is a frequent speaker on employee benefits topics, and provides benefits consulting, education and training.

Before joining Intermountain, Greg also served as in-house counsel to several other organizations, including First Health, the country's largest third-party administrator and First Data Corp., where he had legal responsibility for the employee benefits aspects of the company's mergers, acquisitions and divestitures. Prior to that, he was associated with the Salt Lake City law firm of Kimball, Parr, Waddoups, Brown & Gee.

Greg clerked for the Honorable Stephen H. Anderson of the Tenth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals. He graduated, with honors, from the University of Chicago Law School, where he was on the managing board of the University of Chicago Law Review. He also has a B.A., magna cum laude, from Brigham Young University.