Jake Logan, VP, UnitedHealth Group

Jake Logan, vice president for state government affairs with UnitedHealth Group, is responsible for coordinating the public policy and political engagement activities for all businesses in the UnitedHealth Group family across Arizona, Idaho and Utah, helping to enhance the company's presence and relationships with elected officials, policymakers and state- and community-level office holders.

Before joining UnitedHealth, he had more than 12 years of government affairs experience, serving most recently as a partner with an Arizona-based lobbying and consulting firm. In that role, he was named by the Phoenix Business Journal as one of the top 40 under 40, and by a leading political website (http://www.politceraz.com) as the 10th most influential leader in Arizona politics.

Previously, he served as US Senator Jon Kyl's campaign manager and regional director, as well as the senior adviser to Arizona House Speaker Jake Flake. Recently, Governor Jan Brewer appointed and the Arizona Senate unanimously confirmed him to serve on the Arizona State Board for Charter Schools.

He is an Arizona native and lives in Phoenix with his wife Lori and two children.
