

David Tietjen, Campus President of Argosy University

David Tietjen, serves as Campus President of Argosy University, Salt Lake City where he provides principal leadership for the university campus.

Prior to joining Argosy, David served as Vice President of Sales and General Manager of ViaWest, the largest privately funded provider of data center and infrastructure services in the United States.

He brings a vast amount of business experience to his new role, having also served in various executive and management roles in the manufacturing, marketing, software, and automotive industries with companies such as Merit Medical (Sensor Division), MarketStar, TRW – Information and Technical Services, Iomega and Ford Motor Company.

He is active in the community in Utah politics and as a volunteer working with children.

David holds a Master's of Business Administration and a Bachelor of Science in Finance from Brigham Young University and is conversant in three languages.

